PROJECT SUMMARY: ALMA-DC (2010-2013)

The project aims to promote adult education for female migrants/women from ethnic minorities in EU to assist with their social integration by creating a learning course for them and by compiling a Culture Equity Model for teachers/trainers of these migrants.

To accomplish these targets, the consortium initiated an intercultural dialogue with impact on communities to trigger awareness of cultural diversity in EU caused by immigration and the need to socially integrate the migrant women so that they attend adult education and become employable thus responding to the need to add active workforce in EU (effects of ageing population). Moreover, the consortium has compiled innovative pedagogical guidelines addressing teachers/trainers of migrant women, to optimise their teaching competences.

The procedures and the development of the outcomes has involved the TGs - migrant women and teachers/trainers in adult education - at several stages in terms of active participation, pilot testing and assessment practices.
